After starting full-time work, I decided to step back as a moderator, but I still dropped in to help occasionally.

YouTube/Twitch Experience , Personal and Group Channels

SEPT 2012 – DEC 2019

For many years I tried my luck at being an influencer. I produced content doing everything from playing games to travel vlogs. While I wasn't successful in turning it into a career, I still achieved what I wanted, and the experience and fun I had along the way will always be worth the time and effort.
